21. The District's GATE plan emphasizes addressing the needs of GATE students through Differentiated Instruction. Additionally, in the past two years, many District teachers have engaged in professional development pertaining to Differentiated Instruction for all learners. Differentiated Instruction is an approach to teaching that emphasizes meeting the needs of individual learners rather than delivery of a one size fits all program. Teachers utilizing differentiation may adjust learning content, process, and/or products to fit the varying needs of learners within a single classroom. A few examples of Differentiation include: - A student is provided out of grade level instruction in mathematics. - An advanced student is paired with other advanced learners for a specific activity. - An assignment is tiered, so that some students respond to more advanced questions than other students.
