

Online Sources for Book Reviews

The Complete Review

<http://www.complete-review.com/main/main.html>

This site has links to reviews from various sources (NY Times, New Yorker, Village Voice, Economist and many more). To practice using this site, scroll down the main page to The Best then scroll down and click on current best sellers. Click into a title that interests you and scroll down to the box labeled Review Summaries. You will see the links to various newspaper and magazine reviews. Click into a few (some may no longer work) to read the reviews.

San Francisco Chronicle Book Reviews

<http://sfgate.com/eguide/books/>

You can read the book review section of the Chronicle online and you can use the Quick search box to find reviews published in the last 30 days. It helps to type in both the title and author if you are looking for a review of a particular book.

BookPage

<http://www.bookpage.com/>

You can read the current issue or search the archives by clicking on the archives link at the top of the page.

Newspage guide to review sources

<http://www.newpages.com/NPGuides/reviews.htm>

This site has links to many review journals including the book review sections from prominent newspapers.

Reader's Club

<http://www.readersclub.org/default.asp>

A variety of book reviews from the Public Library of Charlotte & Mecklenburg County.